August General Meeting

We will meet on Tuesday night, August 25th at 6:30 to hear our speaker, Dr. Bernard Meisner. You may remember him from earlier this year and remember that not only is he an excellent speaker, but he “knows his stuff.” When FWGS heard that Ancestry is making some big changes to their web site and their interface for subscribers, we turned to Bernard and he has put together some helpful things to help us with the changes. You won’t want to miss this session on “The NEW Ancestry.com.”

DR. BERNARD MEISNER

is from the Mid-Cities Genealogical Society. He has served as a past president, social media chair, and parliamentarian. He began researching his family over 25 years ago and enjoys sharing lessons learned from those experiences, including the mistakes.

Bernard’s background in science (retired from National Weather Service) and education (teaching at college levels) have helped him greatly with his new genealogical career as a locally sought-after speaker.

Bring a friend.
Refreshments at 6 pm.

FW Library News

Welcome Bryan McKinney!

FWGS extends a hearty welcome to the new Manager of the Genealogy, Local History, & Archives unit. Bryan has only been on the job a week or so, but already has great plans in the works for our unit.

Bryan joins FWL after a 10 year career in various history & archives related positions with the Dallas P.L. He holds a bachelor’s degree in history from UTA and a master’s degree in library science from UNT.

Bryan joins full-timers Suzanne, Rene, Jabari, Linda, & Jody, with Joe and Kim, part-timers.

July Meeting

Mary Louise Garcia, our Tarrant County Clerk spoke in July. She convinced us her office is the busiest in the county. Her office serves 1.9 million citizens and works with 41 cities (the only county in the state to work with that many city entities.) Her office oversees 6 divisions ranging from courts, county commissioners, taxes, land, to our favorites, vital records (birth, death, probate, & marriage.) Many of these are searchable on-line now. She told us about MegaSearch where deed records can be found (1958-2015). Searches are free, but if you need a copy, you can pay online for the same price you would have paid downtown. And you can skip the parking charges and all the walking! Her watch words are service for the public, technology and preservation of our precious records. And still comes in under budget! Try it on the secure site: <https://tcrecordsonline.com/>

From the President.....

Whew...It Finally Hit 100!

I hope you are keeping cool. Stay inside and do some GENEALOGY. Do it in the Library, on a vacation to a county courthouse, or at home on your computer!

And speaking of computers and county courthouses, I do hope you came in July to hear our County Clerk, Mary Louise Garcia speak about what is available from Tarrant County records online now! If you did not make it--look for her talk captured on video to appear soon. Check out our NEW FWGS You Tube Channel at:

Other NEWS! There is a new museum in Texas: The BRYAN MUSEUM of Galveston! The museum, founded by Mary Jon and J.P. Bryan, is the result of their lifetime commitment to historic preservation and education.

The Bryan Museum houses the largest collection of its type in the world: 70,000 items, spanning 2,500 years, including treasures from ancient Native American cultural artifacts to 21st century pieces, rare German, French, Spanish and English documents, exquisite saddles, spurs, antique firearms, exceptionally rare maps and books, fine art, religious and folk art, portraits, and documents.

It is located in Galveston in an historic building at 1315 21st St. (10 blocks from the historic Strand and 5 blocks from the beach.) Doesn't it sound like a trip to the BRYAN with a side trip to the Beach would be perfect for AUGUST?

The venerable and well respected Texas State Historical Association (TSHA) has moved again! After their founding on March 2, 1897 they have mostly been headquartered and associated with UT in Austin. In 2008 they broke with tradition and moved to Denton and the University of North Texas (UNT). This year it was announced that the non-profit educational group will move back to Austin. Many genealogists and historians make use of their extensive Handbook of Texas available online. New info is...

Fort Worth Genealogical Society

AMERICANANCESTORS.ORG

America's oldest and most respected genealogical society is the New England Historic Genealogical Society (NEHGS). Founded in 1845, NEHGS has led the way in American standards of genealogical practice and research. NEHGS publications are highly respected and inspire imitation. It continues to be the largest genealogical society in America today, and as such, is a resource for family history research. Even though the name states "New England" the appeal is national and covers the interests of genealogists everywhere. And now NEHGS has a brand name service available online with their AMERICANANCESTORS.ORG

AmericanAncestors.org covers nearly all aspects of family history, from seventeenth-century colonial New England, New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia, through twenty-first century immigration research. It also appeals to all levels of research. NEHGS staff and contributors are some of the worlds finest with expertise in early American, Irish, English, Scottish, Italian, Atlantic and French Canadian, African American, Native American, Chinese, and Jewish research. Expert assistance is available to members and nonmembers in a variety of ways. The NEHGS library and archive, located at 99–101 Newbury Street in downtown Boston, is home to more than 28 million items, including artifacts, documents, records, journals, letters, books, manuscripts, and other items dating back hundreds of years.

Online subscriptions start at Basic for $89.95 and Life Memberships @ 62 start at $3,000. 400+ million records!
