

Local History Uploaded: Preserving Fort Worth Online

Past meets present in downtown Fort Worth.

With Rene Gomez, Senior Librarian, Fort Worth Library

Rene Gomez will highlight Into the Past, an upcoming library project merging historic photographs with recent images to illustrate changes to familiar locales over time. Also, find out how you can help raise awareness of historic places in the Fort Worth area through online photography collaborations such as the National Register of Historic Places WikiProject and Historypin which are always seeking volunteers.

A native of Fort Worth, Rene Gomez is a senior library in the Genealogy, Archives, and Local History unit of the Fort Worth Library. He holds a master's degree from the University of North Texas and has been with the library since 2001.
