Genealogy Announcements

June General Meeting

The June General Meeting featured a talk by Susan Pritchett, Tarrant County Archivist, which told us about the history of the Tarrant County Archives, and their contents.

The sources of material in the Archives may be briefly describes as:

- 1. County records such as District Court civil cases from 1877 to 1910, most marriage licenses from 1877 to 1976, audit reports from 1911 to 1938, public works projects from the late 1920s to the mid 1930s, property assement rolls from 1879 to 1890, and a Register of Physicians from 1876 to 1907.
- 2. Records from the Tarrant County Historical Commission such as official records of the Commission from 1977 to 2008. The Archives also contain the 335+ historical marker applications which have been approved.
- 3. Individually donated records such as 332 file boxes of land title abstracts, Fort Worth City Directories, an 8 volume collection of Sanborn fire maps, bound editions of the Fort Worth magazine from 1946 to 1973, among many others.

The Tarrant County Archives are open Monday through Friday, from 8:30 AM to 5 PM. The permanent staffer, Susan Pritchett, is occasionally assisted by volunteers. One should call 817-884-3272 to obtain directions and to insure that a staffer will be available.

Texas Death Records Now Online

Family search has announce the existence of a pilot project which contains death records for many states including Texas. To get to the pilot project, access http://pilot.familysearch.org/. Drop down the page to Vital Records and select Texas Deaths, 1890-1976. From there, begin your search for ancestors.

I have found records for my grandfather, W. G. Norris (died 1940), my great uncle, V. Norris (died 1925), and my father, W. G. Norris, Jr. (died 1958). However, I have not been so fortunate to find other ancestors. The database definitely has gaps.
